Peace Prospect Good, Truman ays; Clay Reports On Berlin

ke just before getting a d report on the Soviet e of Berlin from the U. S. der there, Gen. Lucius D.

de his report in Mr. Tru- s office at a meeting of the ional security council lasting an ur and 50 minutes. Mr. Truman chairman of the council. Secretary of State Marshall and military leaders are members.

No Conclusions Drawn

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross told reporters Mr. Truman sat in on the meeting for about an hour. Ross added—

"General Clay simply talked to the group about the istuation in Berlin."

Asked by reporters whether the meeting "foreshadowed a change of policy in Berlin," Ross replied—

"The meeting foreshadowed nothing. No conclusions can be drawn from it. The council simply listened to General Clay."

Ross said that Clay was invited to the council meeting so that he could tell his story to all the top-ranking military and diplomatic officials at one time.

At a news conference before the meeting, Mr. Truman fully endorsed Secretary Marshall's statement on the Berlin situation yesterday. Marshall said the United States will not be "coerced or intimidated" but will use every possible diplomatic means to get a peaceful settlement.

Upon leaving the conference, Clay himself told reporters simply that he had "reported on the German situation."

He said he is flying back to Berlin tomorrow night. Clay flew here last night for a quick round of conferences.

Clay Declines Comment

Clay wouldn't coment on whether he received any "guidance" from the council.

Nor would he coment when a reporter asked, "Will there be any change in the situation as a result of this conference?"

Mr. Truman said flatly he will not discuss the Berlin situation nor any other aspect of foreign affairs in his message to Congress next week.

He first responded with a no comment reply when asked "What do you make of the Berlin situation?"

But later on, a reporter reminded him that from time to time he had given his idea of the prospects for attaining world peace. The reporter asked "What is your estimate of the chances for world peace now?"

Peace Chances Good.

Mr. Truman replied at once—he thinks the chances for world peace are good. In fact, he hastened to add, he thinks they're excellent.

Secretary Marshall made a statement on that yesterday, Mr. Truman said, adding he is in complete agreement.

He was then asked whether he meant Marshall's statement that the United States intends to do everything possible to work out a peaceful settlement at Berlin. Mr. Truman answered yes.

General Clay begins a fast round of top-level conferences today on the Berlin crisis.

Taylor said he is "not disturbed" over possible Communist infiltration into the new party because he does not believe they will control its policies.

Communsm has been the main subject of talk at this gathering of the "new party" followers. Wallace and others have hit the arrest of Communist leaders.

Even as Wallace lashed out at the indictment of 12 Communists by a federal grand jury in New York, the ADA said through James Loeb, executive secretary, that:

"Mr. Wallace's candidacy (for President) does not obscure the fact that the Communists and their collaborators guide the main policies and word the major pronouncements of this new party."

Truman Says He'll Talk With Demos From Over Nation

WASHINGTON, July 2—(AP)— President Truman said today that he will talk with Democratic leaders of all opinions in advance of the presidential campaign.

He told a news conference that he is ready to talk with whatever groups Senator J. Howard McGrath, democratic national chairman, brings to the White House.

McGrath said after a conference at the White House yesterday that representatives of divergent views will be included in the groups he planned to bring in.

The party chairman put out the welcome mat for Democrats who have been opposing Mr. Truman's candidacy—including the Dixiecrat leaders. He said all elements of the party would be "welcome" at the White House talks.

Message Not Discussed

Mr. Truman flatly declined at his news conference to discuss the contents of the special message he will deliver personally before the extra session of congress next Tuesday.

Mr. Truman did say he has no intention of detailing the international situation in his message to congress.

While his press secretary, Charles G. Ross, has said passage of civil rights legislation will be recom-

Mexico To Cut Value Of Money In U. S. Dollars

WASHINGTON, July 22.—(AP)— U. S. officials said today they expect Mexico's new peso will be pegged at 15 or 17 cents.

The present rate is approximately 20 cents.

U. S. diplomatic officials who asked not to be identified told a reporter that Mexico's suspension of operations in foreign currencies is being done in an effort to solve a domestic economic problem.

Authorities familiar with the Mexican financial situation said they expect the peso to be valued at one of three levels—15 cents, 16 cents, or 17 cents.

One U. S. official said the move is not as drastic as it might appear on the surface.

Mexico's exports have been increasing over recent months, he said, and in general, the country's international financial position is not entirely discouraging.

One effect of today's move by the Mexican government, he said, will be to cut down imports of luxury goods—mostly from the United States.

On the other hand, it may help bring in more dollars to dollar- sh Mexico, he added, because of d tourist

Two Yanks Held After Going Into Red Berlin Zone

BERLIN, July 22—(AP)—Two American military policeemn were arrested by the Russians today after they drove into the Russian zone "by mistake," the provost marshal's office said.

They were privates Elwood E. Dwinnel of Mabton, Washington, and George G. Hunt of Camp, Ohio.

The provost marshal's ofice said they were on a regular patrol in the American sector of Berlin when they accidentally drove into the Soviet zone on a side road.

In coming out, they took a main street leading back to the American sector and were picked up by a Russian patrol.

Americans Notified

German police notified American authorities.

"Dwinnel and Hunt were last seen being escorted down Unter Den Linden by the Russians to the Soviet headquarters," the assistant provost marshal, Lt. Col. E. R. Kelly said.

"We are in contact with the Russians now and expect that they will be released soon."

He added "no trouble is anticipated."

The French-licensed newspaper Der Kurier claims Russia could not launch a blitz against the Western zones of Germany even if she wanted to.

Transportation Poor

"Dismantled rail lines east of the Elbe and deteriorated bridges would hold up the advance of motorized columns," the paper asserted.

It added that the Russians would be hampered by long communication lines, and quoted German railway men as saying that Soviet supply trains still are har-

Tito Tells Party Cominform Seeks Yugo Civil War

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 22—(AP)—The fifth congress of the Yugoslav Communist party resumed today with another marathon speech following up Marshal Tito's eight-hour blast which accused the Russian-led cominform of trying to foment civil war in Yugoslavia.

Mnister of Interior Alexander Rankovic took up where Tito lef off yesterday. Rankovic, whose name has been one to strike terror into the hearts of all Tito's enemies, talked on party organization. Rankovic heads the UDBA (security police).

The Belgrade press was given over almost completely to Tito's speech to the 2300 delegates to this congress, shuned by the Communist parties of other eastern nations.

Two Raps Opponents

Tito said yesterday two of the leaders he purged had spearheaded a move by "anti-party persons." He identified the two as Sraten Zujovic, former finace minister, and Andrija Hebrang, former minister of light industry and one-time president of the nation's planning commission.

Tito implied that he now has full control of the situation.

Eight Hour Speech

In an eight-hour speech to 2,800 wildly cheering Yugoslav Communist delegates attending a party congress, Tito also:

1. Rejected again the cominform's "slanders" against the Yugoslav Communist party.
2. Pledged the party will continue to follow the Marxist pattern.
3. Said he wants the friendship

Plan To Compel Fund-Raising Drives To Obtain Permits From Chamber Of Commerce To Solicit Here Revealed

Persons conducting fund drives or soliciting various forms of advertising in Corsicana will be compelled to obtain a permit from the Chamber of Commerce, according to a plan approved by the solicitation and advertising control committee and the merchants activities committee of the organization.

Herman Brown, manager, is now drafting final plans for the procedure.

He said merchants will be furnished with complete details, and that a list of approved and blacklisted plans will be included. A combination pledge and solicitors' card for the merchant to sign and post in his store will be included also. The merchant pledges to refuse to contribute funds or to take advertising unless the solicitor has a permit.

Secret Committee.

A secret committee will be named by J. M. Dyer, Jr., committee charman, composed of five members, to pass on soliciting applications.

The committee also decided that any organization soliciting funds other than from its membership would be required to make application for a permit.

The group also gave endorsement to a proposal that the practice of putting posters and window cards in display and show-windows be eliminated. They accepted the proposal, however, that such cards be placed elsewhere in the stores.

Eligible List.

The following classes of solicitations and advertising are eligible to receive permits, the committe said:

Community Chest campaign, high school and college annuals in Corsicana trade territory, Corsicana Livestock and Agricultural Show catalogue, Red Cross compaign, local drive of National Can-

Congress May Act As Teen-Agers Say Enlistment Blocked By Army Limits

WASHINGTON, July 22—(AP)— Complaints from many 18-year-olds that they are being squeezed out of a chance to volunteer for military service seemed likely today to get attention at the special session of congress.

Staff aides of Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the senate armed services committee said he already has asked Secretary of Defense Forrestal for a report on possible changes in the selective service act.

Thousands of teen-agers jammed recruiting stations yesterday to sign up for a one-year term in the armed forces, thus avoiding a draft call for 21 months service when they trun 19. However, congress said only 161,000 may be accepted during the next year—and three are an estimated 1,200,000 in this age bracket now.

Army Plan Opposed

Gurney earlier opposed the army plan of taking the volunteers on an equal monthly basis on the grounds this will cause many to lose two years of schooling. He suggested instead that most of the 18-year-olds be accepted during the summer vacation period.

Gurney's committee aides gave these reasons for the 161,000 ceiling on the teen-age volunteers:

1. Only $500,000,000 was approved by congress for the one-year training program and unless an extra amount is appropriated at the special session further expansion is barred.
2. A larger number of 18-year-olds would require more regulars to train them, thus reducing the combat strength of the armed forces.

No Overseas Service

3. The one-year volunteers cannot be sent outside this country, except for brief training cruises or flights by those in the navy and air force. But draftees can be dispatched on any overseas asignment.

Meanwhile selective service of-

New French Chief Gets More Support To Form Cabinet

PARIS, July 22.—(AP)—Wartime Premier Paul Reynaud agreed today to serve as finance minister in a cabinet headed by Moderate Conservative Andre Marie. Socialist Elder Statesman Leon Blum was reported ready to accept the foreign ministry.

Reynaud's decision assures the premier-designate of the 25 votes from the rightist independent Republicans in the assembly. Marie's Radical Socialist (conservative) party has 43 seats. He needs 309 votes to be confirmed.

Blum's acceptance of the foreign ministry, which Georges Bidault has handled almost continuously since the liberation, would give Marie 103 votes. However, Socialist support is conditioned upon approval of Marie's program. Likewise, the Popular Republicans said they waited announcement of Marie's policies before deciding whether to support him.

Defense Budget Issue.

President Vincent Auriol yesterday gave Marie the job of forming a government to succeed Robert Schuman's cabinet which quit Monday night when the Socialists insisted on cutting the defense budget. Bidault and Schuman are Popular Republicans.

Marie was the justice minister in Schuman's cabinet which will continue in office until a new regime can take over. Frenchmen were eager for a quick end of the crisis.

Bidault, who hurried back to Paris from a five-nation Western European conference in The Hague told newsmen:

"It is important in the present international situation that France have a government."

British Position On Berlin Firm, Bevin Declares

LONDON, July 22.—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin declared today Britain will not back down on her demands for lifting of the Russian blockade of Berlin as a preliminary to four power talks on Germany.

"It is impossible," he told the House of Commons, "for a self respecting government to sit down and discuss these things when your troops are cut off from normal communications and two and one half million people are being used to put pressure upon you to come to a decision."

Discussions Due.

"If these technical difficulties are now removed and we have free access to our troops and free access to the people we have undertaken to feed, then nothing can stop discussions at once."

Bevin said he was in close touch with the United States and France on the Berlin crisis, "in particular on the further steps to be taken in the light of the Soviet government's reply to our joint note."

Earlier a British official said the Western powers have agreed tentatively to widen the negotiations on Berlin to consider several other German problems. He implied that representatives of Britain, France and the United States, agreed to such a concession to the Russians in the draft of a new note protesting the Soviet blockade of Berlin.

Air Activity Goes On.

Air activity quickened in Britain under the impact of the Berlin crisis. The air ministry ordered large-scale Royal Air Force exercises over Southern England for Sunday in conjunction with a test of Britain's wartime air raid observation service.

In Central England, some of the 60 American Superfortresses stationed at three RAF fields for "training missions" took off yesterday for flights over Britain.

Texas Candidates Push Campaigns As Election Near

By The Associated Press.

George Peddy, bolstered by approving nods from a former governor and a multimillionaire oil man, plugged peace and preparedness at De Leon. Tex., today.

The candidate for the U. S. senate told crowds at a watermelon festival: "The future peace of the world depends on our standing firm against Russian aggression. If Russia wants to fight us, we had best have the fight now."

Moody, Cullen Approve

Peddy received endorsement last night from former Governor Dan Moody and from H. R. Cullen, Houston oil man and philanthropist.

"Peddy would be the senator for all the people—not the tool or servant of any group," said Moody.

In a letter to Peddy, Cullen stated: "I have come to the conclusion that the voters of this state would show good judgment if they would cast their votes for you."

Johnson Rides On

Peddy Tuesday had received the endorsement of Myron C. Blalock of Marshall, former Texas national Democratic committeeman.

Opponent Lyndon Johnson rode his helicopter today from San Antonio to Houston and Coke Stevenson, also a candidate for the senate, shook hands with voters at Stephenville, Hico, Meridian, Clifton ad Valley Mills.

Johnson spent last night in San Antonio and Stevenson and Peddy were in Dallas.

New Drug Said To Combat Polio, Raging Over State

HOUSTON, July 22.—(AP)—Polio patients treated with a new sulphatype drug, thiazolyl, are up and walking around, but doctors warned against over-optimism.

One doctor pointed out that many patients recover spontaneously from polio.

Some 70 patients were estimated to have been treated with thiazolyl, but Houston doctors said yesterday only about 35 cases were being used for study and evaluation. The remainder of the cases were "thrown out" because of errors in diagnosis and dosage, they said.

"We feel that the drug is doing some good," one doctor said at the City-County Jefferson Davis Hospital, "but we just want to be sure before we make any claims."

Corsicana Plans Fu Appeal After Annexa Ruling Reversed At

By BOB CAMPBELL
Daily Sun Staff.

Attempts of the City of Corsicana to extend its municipal borders were set back Thursday wh the Tenth Court of Civil Ap at Waco in a unanimous opinion reversed the ruling of Judge A. P. Mays holding the city had the right to extend by ordinance the city limits to the north and west.

The opinion, as written by Judge Giles P. Lester, chief justice, swept it all into one basket.

The court reversed the original judgment of the local district court, tendered judgment in favor of those fighting the extension, declared the extension ordinance null and void and granted the injunctive relief asked for.

Validity Attacked.

The suit fighting the extension to the Zion's Rest area and that to the northwest was originally brought in two contests. One was brought by Charles Willmann, and other residents to the west, and the other by A. Hayes Bonner and others of Zion's Rest. They attacked validity of the ordinances extending the limits, and the suits were combined.

Threat Of Ford Strike Erased By Wage Agreement

DETROIT, July 22—(AP)—A 13-cent an hour wage increase for 116,000 CIO production workers today erased a national strike threat against the Ford Motor Company.

Climaxing more than 21 hours of nearly continuous negotiation, the CIO United Auto Workers also won increases in premium pay, vacation improvements, and a group insurance plan revision.

The union estimated these "fringe" benefits would total an additional 3 1-2 to 4 cents an hour.

Last Major Pact

The UAW-CIO also estimated the annual increased cost to Ford of the new contract at $32,000,000. The firm made no estimate.

Details of the revised contract, which expires July 15, 1949, were revealed jointly by the union and the company.

Ford's agreement with the UAW-CIO was the last among the auto industry's "big three." It set a peaceful stage for the country's major producers to maintain high production at least until the summer of 1949.

Late in May General Motors Corp. and Chrysler Corp. granted the UAW-CIO increases. GM signed to a sliding increase that raised pay of its workers by 11 cents an hour and geared future adjustments to the cost of living index issued by the government's bureau of standards.

Strike Loomed

Chrysler Corp. a few days later ended a 17-day strike by giving the auto workers a flat 13-cent hourly raise. About 75,000 benefited by the Chrysler contract.

The UAW-CIO had cleared the decks for a strike in Ford's 46 plants across the nation in case an agreement was not reached this week, but withheld setting a date.

Vice-president John S. Bugas of the Ford Company said the new agreement included the same wage offer that the union turned down a week ago, "plus a few additional fringe adjustments worked out in our negotiating sessions."

The 13-cent-an-hour increase brings the Ford average hourly production wage rate to $1.65 and $1.66.

Steel Industry In Line With Latest Wage, Price Hike

PITTSBURGH, July 22.—(AP)— The nation's steel industry is following the pattern of the U. S. Steel Corp.—boosting wages and the prices of its products.

The developments are coming just as fast at the industry's statisticians can figure what prices they feel the steelmakers must get for their products.

Just how soon the public will learn how much more it will have to pay for the hundreds of items produced from steel is problematical. One thing is certain: Price advances will follow—all along the line.

All Workers Raised.

U. S. Steel gave the tipoff on what was coming when it granted an average 13-cent hourly boost to its 170,000 production workers, all members of the CIO United Steelworkers. Another 100 000 salaried workers got comparable boosts—and the remainder of the steel industry is doing the same thing.

This week "Big Steel" boosted the prices of its products an average of $9.34 a ton. Yesterday two more big producers followed suit. Bethlehem Steel Co. at Bethlehem, Pa., increased its prices of rolled steel about 11 percent.

at his news conference yesterday. In a terse statement he declared that the United States will not be "coerced or intimidated" but will exhaust every resource of diplomacy in an effort "avoid the tragedy of war for the world."

Clay arrived by plane last night direct from Germany. He was accompanied by his chief political adviser, Ambassador Robert Murphy and Brig. Gen. J. F. McBlain, air force staff officer in Berlin.

Met at the airport by Secretary of Army Royall, Gen. Omar Bradley and other high military and civilian officials, the outspoken commander was immediately put under wraps.

General Hushed Up.

As he stepped from the plane, Royall shook his hand and whispered in his ear the only statement which the army secretary thought he should make. A few seconds later, Clay offered this comment:

"I have returned from Germany on a quick trip at the request of Secretary of the Army Royall to report to the Department of Army on the German situation. There is nothing else I can say at this time."

Clay is expected to return to Berlin this weekend.

Clay's trip provides him with an opportunity not only to learn at first hand and in complete secrecy the details of future American diplomatic moves but also makes it possible for him to give a personal report on (a) exactly what is going on in Germany, (b) the temper of the German people and c) the effectiveness of the air lift in keeping the Western sectors of the city alive.

It also gives Washington officials an opportunity to discuss with Clay their apprehension over various reports from Germany which they consider alarmist. Top informants have expressed particular concern over threats to use force in an effort to break the blockade.

Nevertheless there were fresh signs abroad that this country is making ready to stand behind its promise to meet with prompt military countermeasures any show of Soviet force.

A squadron of 12 B-29 Superfortresses roared over Helgoland yesterday in a bombing-training mission to the island off Germany's northwest coast.

And 16 F-80 Shooting Star fighters landed in England after the first east-bound crossing of the Atlantic by jet planes.

Meanwhile, negotiations are continuing at a rapid pace among the United States, Britain and France on the text of a note which probably will be sent to Moscow as soon as the French political situation is cleared up with the formation of a new government.

AUSTIN, July 22.—(AP)—Polio's surge through Texas enveloped 75 new victims last week.

That total was announced by the state health department yesterday. The new cases occurred in 30 counties.

The incidence, 14 fewer cases than the week previous, boosted the year's total cases to date to 811 in 93 counties. This compares with 452 cases in 81 counties for the comparable period in 1946, the last bad polio year.

The health department said new cases of polio struck at follows last week:

mmun . party said the nts were part of a "frame-up" to embarrass Wallace's new party.

Guy Tugwell told reporters the party's platform will say "capitalist America and Communist Russia can and must live together the same world."

Marshall Plan Condemned.

Condemning the Marshall Plan, the platform is expected to pledge "through negotiations and discussion with the Soviet Union, in good faith, to find areas of agreement to win the peace."

It probably will call for repeal of the draft law and the Taft-Hartley Act. It is expected to urge a $1.00 an hour minimum wage and a cut-back in prices to 1946 levels. It probably will back public ownership of banks, railroads and utilities.

The "abundance, freedom and peace" platform won't be formally adopted until Sunday, after Wallace and Senator Glen Taylor of Idaho, his running partner, have formally accepted their cut and dried nominations in a local ball park Saturday night.

Taylor's arrival today was to signal the start of formal convention activities.

Dulles To Be UN Paris Delegate

LAKE SUCCESS, July 22.—(AP)—John Foster Dulles, foreign affairs advisor to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, will be a delegate to the United Nations Assembly in Paris, informed sources said today.

Disclosure that Dulles had decided to accept an invitation from President Truman to be a member of the United States delegation made it certain the bi-partisan foreign policy would be continued in the U. N.

If Gov. Dewey is elected president in November, Dulles is widely regarded as his choice for secretary of state.

Miss McWilliams Feted At Shower Tuesday Evening

Miss Jerlenne Thompson and Miss Susie McMichael entertained jointly Tuesday evening with an unusual linen shower and dessert party at the Corsicana Country Club, naming as honoree Miss G'Nelle McWilliams, bride-elect of Morris Stevens.

As an entertainment feature a farcical style show, purporting to display Miss McWilliams' own trousseau, was staged with Mrs Gertrude Thompson furnishing a musical background at the piano. Miss Thelma Bowden emceed the show.

Miss Billie June Etheredge was model for the bridal gown, contrived with curtain netting. She carried a bridal bouquet of vegetables and sun flowers and wore barefoot sandels as an accessory.

The travel costume, worn by Mrs. Bobby Thompson, was a brown satin frock accessoried with a huge hat, red shoes, blue gloves and others in comical effect. To big-name designers were attributed the fashions.

Miss Fat Borg modeled lingerie with her face heavy in cold cream. Mrs. Albert McMichael, dressed in blue jeans and a soiled apron and carrying a rolling pin, was model for what passed as wearing apparel for the homemaker. At the conclusion apologies were tendered the bride-elect for and coincidental similarities to her real trousseau.

A bridal chest, encased in white and with white satin bows, held the shower gifts. Miss Billie Anne Cheney assisted with the gifts, and Miss Carolyn Dublin registered the guests in the honoree's book.

A miniature bridal couple centered an occasional table, and the floral decor was emphasized by the use of pastel colored zinnias.

To thirty guests were served a fruit punch with chicken salad sandwiches, open-faced sandwiches, crab apples and chocolate cake slices.

Family Of Man On B-29 Flight Are Living Here

Staff Sgt. Fred Dugger, gunner, was one of the B-29 crewmen of the six squadrons of the 28th group from Rapid City, S. D., and the 207th Group from MacDill Field, Fla, landing at Scampton, Waddington and Marham Fields in England the past week-end. The first forty-eight of the bombers arrived Saturday with twelve more due to come from Goose Bay, Labrador.

Sgt. Dugger has a wife and small son, Mike, staying in Corsicana with her mother, Mrs. Gladys Burkhart, hostess-caterer at Kinsloe House. They recently were in Rapid City for a short visit with Sgt. Dugger before his assignment.

Col. John Henry of Charlotte, Texas, is commander of the 28th group. On landing he said that missions of this sort usually last around thirty days and that he has no reason to suppose that this one will be any different. Officially the Superforts are on a routine navigation training exercise. Officers who made the trip treated it as a coincidence that the move came at a time of mounting tension between Russia and the Western Allies.

HOME OF R. W. GEORGE ROUTE 3 IS 100 YEARS OLD LIKE CORSICANA THIS YEAR

In this year of 1948 when Corsicana is celebrating its Centennial, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. George of Route 3 are reminded that their house is also 100 years old.

It's a happy birthday for the old house, too, because the George's have recently rescued it from the ignoble fate of being a hay barn and a refuse for skunks, 'possums and other such transient tenants and have restored it to its rightful status. Despite its last year's role as hay barn, this year it is a home again. A pleasant cherry one it is, too, and the owners are downright proud of it.

The house, now fondly called Hamilton Hill, was constructed in 1848 of lumber hauled from Beaumont by ox-cart. It was built in the prevalent style of the day with two large rooms on each side of an open "dog-trot" and a shed room across the back.

Wooden Pegs Used

Hand-hewn oak sills with wooden pegs were used for foundation, peeled cedar for rafters and lighter parts of the framework and white pine for the interior.

The original flooring of random-width white pine is still intact in most of the house, and although a few of the boards zig when they should zag, Mrs. George says she wouldn't think of replacing them. She claims it looks just like the flooring in Arlington House, General Robert E. Lee's home, even to the depressed nail holes.

One of the most interesting features of Hamilton Hill is its doors. All are over four feet wide and nearly all have their original hardware. Their brass keys are four inches long and weight about one pound each.

The house, located just west of Hamilton-Beeman Cemetery on old Hamilton in 1848. The Hamiltons amilton in 1848. The Hamiltons lived in it for the next 61 years.

Family Left in 1909

In 1909 the last of the family moved away from the old homeplace and from Navarro County. During the next 32 years the old house valiantly battled the elements and the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, but by 1941 when R. L. Harris purchased the farm from the Hamilton heirs, it was considered unfit for human habitation.

Mr. Harris decided to put on a new roof, for the old one was leaking like a sieve by this time, to save what was left of it. Confidently, he was crazy about those doors, and on the practical saw that it could hold hay. he gave the Ha daughter aw, George's a presen

Hot Check Writer Fined By Judge

Another hot check writer has been brought to justice—thanks to his "cash minded" wife.

The husband purchased a pistol with a bad check; later he traded the pistol with the same businessman for a fishing rod and reel.

Then, the wife returned the rod and reel, demanding return of the cash. Meanwhile, the businessman had learned of the swindling and notified Constable Joe Allen.

Through his wife, the man was located, arrested and fined $15 by Justice of the Peace A. E. Foster, after the businessman was compensated for his loss.

"THAT LAST HAND."

When midnight comes d home I'd go,
Always it seems to be my fate
For guests whose game of bridge is slow
The while they end thier play to wait.
"We're at the last hand now!" they cry.
"The prizes aren't awarded yet."
And then whatever bid they try
Is one that's certain to be set.

"That last hand!" Does the devil smile
As someone deals the cards around,
The hall clock ticking all the while,
And none to make a bid that's sound?
Old Fatheer Time keeps moving on,
Not caring who the prize may get,
And even no trump bids of one
Continually being set.

Of all things that I detest
That slowly fritter time away
And keep me from my needed rest,
"That last hand!" heads the list, I'd say.
"That last hand!" watched with drooping lids
And groaning yawns which I regret.
"That last hand!" due to foolish bids,
That is forever being set.

ROCLAIM ING GOOD D EDS

The Am can Friends vice Committee plans to d ft of $25,000 worth g streptomycin to f Russia "as a will." The e Russian ed Crescent ds probably will out it, but other may speculate ether the givers will re- ive any credit in Russia. It is recalled that recently Russia sent a relatively small quantity of food into its zone f Germany, the first such ipment, heralding it with n extensive propaganda mpaign. The propaganda st have been received bit- rly by those who knew that ssia proviously had re- ved large stores of food om Germany and also had fed its troops there on German food.

Correspondents in Germany contrasted this blast of propaganda with the lack of ntion in the Russian-contro d press of the large amoun of food and other needed goods sent into all of Germany, including the Russian zone, by American individuals and relief agencies. There is little enough mention in the free press in the other zones of Germany of these gifts and of the food sent by the govrnments of the United States and Great Britain.

Be that as it may, the American Quaker doubtless will consider a gift given as a deed done, with or without credit. In the case of the streptomycin, although Russians at large may never know the source of a drug which helps to heal their bodies it is of some comfort to reason that the drug must be used by trained physicians, most of whom probably will figure out whence it came.

AUSTRIAN PROBLEM

A major avowed purpose of the European Recovery Program is to finance the purchase of tools and raw materials for the countries being aided, to the end that their increased exports bring about a balanced economy. In Austria this purpose has so far not been brought within sight of achievement. Food and relief materials have made up the bulk of the purchases made so far with ECA funds.

The present stable government there fears Communist agitation if a more severe food shortage is allowed to develop. Lack of food is partly due to the refusal of the peasants to bring in their crops to be sold at the legal prices, which they claim are far too low.

United States officials are divided between a desire to see ECA funds used for their intended purpose and a reluctance to place the Austrian government in a vulnerable spot. The situation is made acute by the Communist party's public statement that it will do everything in its power to defeat the aims of ECA.

This is not the first case in which the immediate practical problems of food and relief have conflicted with the achievement of long-range recovery. It illustrates the need for ample funds at the outset of the program.

PRODUCTION RESERVE

The government has begun the process of creating a reserve of productive capacity, to be used in the event of war. Into this reserve will go industrial plants and machine tools built for World War II at a cost to the government of more than half a billion dollars. Originally headed for the surplus property list, they are to be placed instead on a stand-by basis, preserved for possible future use.

The procedure, if mechanically practical, seems quite reasonable. It should make as much sense to keep machines in reserve for war production as to keep men in the military reserves.

Many are ordnance works and related plants, which would be of limited usefulness to the civilian economy. Others might have made a worthwhile contribution to the commerce of peace. In any case the total represents more than half a billion dollars' worth of buildings and machinery, serving no purpose but as potential capacity for war.

Actually this investment is a relatively small item in cost of national preparedness, necessary because the absence of war is not real peace but only armed truce. Some day it may be discovered that the cost of truce is greater than the cost of peace.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

Ernie Hill writes from Rome to the Chicago Daily News that democratic elements in Europe are beginning to hope that it may become possible to successfully oppose Russian methods in the satellite countries.

Hill quotes a report that for the past three months anti-communist feeling has been strengthening in Bulgaria, in spite of 30 months of propagandizing by Moscow agents. The same report says that 85 per cent of the Bulgarian people are anti-Red in sentiment, but are, nevertheless, held firmly down by the others, who are armed and unscrupulous. There are many signs of revolt among the anti-Reds, who are encouraged by the Italian elections and by the relative failure of the guerrillas in Greece.

The recent dispute between Tito and his masters in the Kremlin is another straw in the wind. Russia's aggressive tactics in Germany may be laid in part to a recogniton of the fact that her headlong progress has been stopped for the time.

BETRAYER OF NAPOLEON

Interest in Tallyrand, Napoleon's foreign minister who plotted his downfall, never dies. Louis Madelin, an authority on the French Revolution, has just written the seventh life of the old rascal to appear in 20 years. Rascal he was, undoubtedly. He lived chiefly to enrich himself, and took bribes from both sides with strict impartiality. Yet he was invaluable to Napoleon until near the end.

Tallyrand's greatest achievement has been thought to be his work at the Congress of Vienna after the fall of Napoleon. He has been credited with wangling admission of France into the group of her conquerors, who might otherwise have dismembered her. Madelin says Tallyrand deserves little praise for this achievement, which was inevitable Instead he should be blamed for getting Prussia a firm foothold on the Rhine, and thus making possible the later wars of Kaiser Wilhelm and Hitler.

Tallyrand should be remembered, if for no other reason, for his famous observation about eating. "Show me another pleasure," said the old voluptuary, "which renews itself three times daily and lasts an hour at a time."

"NOT INTERESTED"

One of the things that is the matter with Congress is shown by the tribulations of a bill establishing a World Health Organization. It was passed by the Senate unanimously, and approved by the House Foreign Affairs Committee. Yet until late in the session the House Rules Committee was not willing to put it on the calendar for voting. Finally the pressure became so great that the committee yielded. The bill was reported to the House and passed.

Why does the Rules Committee act that way? Nobody knows, or at least nobody who has said so publicly. Congressman Eugene E. Cox of Georgia may have been right when he gave as the reason, "The committee just is not interested in the measure."

One cure for the situation might be found if the voters should lose interest in sending the members of the Rules Committee back to Congress.

JOBLESS YOUNGSTERS

A survey of summer labor conditions among high school and college students has been conducted recently by the Wall Street Journal, and its findings make rather gloomy reading.

In New York City, among 2,000 students looking for summer work only a third met with success. In Los Angeles, baby-sitting jobs are scarcer, and the rate per hour has dropped from 75 to 40 cents. These conditions are common in other parts of the country, one reason given being that the high cost of living has driven more young people to look for work. Another factor is the acceptance of such jobs as yard work and park cleaning by older persons who cannot find other employment.

A few bright youngsters have started small businesses of their own with a fair degree of success. "Tie pools," fishing enterprises, and the manufacture of chemical products all have made money for young entrepreneurs.

The survey does not cover the decline in the need for harvest help on the farms. Many husky boys have acquired a coat of tan and strong muscles by working on farms in past years, but the widespread use of mechanical farm implements has cut down the need for this sort of help.

Ingenuity is more marketable nowadays than muscle.

RUSSIAN HARVEST

The official Soviet news agency announces that the Russian wheat harvest is far ahead of last year's with all areas reporting bumper crops. From 5,000,000 acres in rural districts grain is said to be pouring into government collection and delivery centers.

This is good news for the rest of the world. Russia, herself hard pressed for food a year or so ago, this year might be able to help feed Europe.

American Garden Products Going To Europeans

Home-grown vegetables will add their healthy weight to the dinner tables of Europe this summer, thanks to American gardeners.

Through the "Seeds of Peace" project of the National Council of State Garden Clubs, 70,000 kits of vegetable seeds have ben shipped overseas.

Each kit contains thirteen packages of different vegetable seeds and is designed to supply a family of five with fresh stuffs for four months. Also included in the kit is a package of flower seeds so that gardens will be pretty as well as practical. Simple planting instructions written in the native languages are tucked into each kit.

First claim on the seeds, which were shipped and distributed through the Church World Service, was given to persons who had no other means of eking out limited food rations. Already gardens are sprouting near schools, orphanages, displaced persons camps and in the back yards of city dwellers.

Garden clubs in every state contributed money to buy the seeds. A committee of horticulture experts worked out the list of vegetables which would grow in European soil and would also please the palates of the people.

A large seed company packeged the kits at cost, and all the seeds have been shipped for the summer.

David and Jonathan reached their height in this passion of friendship, which was great enough to consume the dross of suspicion and envy and personal advantage. Their common love meant more to both of them than the plaudits of the people or the occupancy of the throne of Israel.

Friendship on High Levels.

One who has looked widely and deeply upon life observes that the surest, sweetest friendships he has seen are among those engaged in some sphere which calls forth the noblest passions. So fellow soldiers who have shared the vicissitudes of war together, make steadfast friends. In the missionary circle friendship at its best is beautifully illustrated. Student ties last through life, casting the sacred mantle of idealism over all the later years. The friendships made in Christian service are sweet and exalted and abiding.

Kingsley's famous explaination of his success was "I had a friend." Tennyson's poetry reached its height in his meditations upon his friend, Arthur Hallam, whose early death stirred the depts of his being. Friendship's shaping hand showed itself in the lives of both David and Jonathan. They both met the test, "A friend loveth at all times."

One of Love's Great Givers.

Of the two, Jonathan was the greater spirit, and paid a higher price for the privilege of friendship. Sportsmen Return From Canadian Fishing Jaunt

A Corsicana group returned Monday night from a successful and enjoyable fishinp trip to Lake Wabaskang, Ontario, Canada.

Lee Fagg, Rufus Shell and Ed Rittersbacher, city commissioner, caught an estimated 1,000 pounds of great northern and wall-eyed pike, most of which was thrown back into the water. They spent 10 days on this lake, located about 200 miles north of the Canadian border in the northwestern section of Ontario.

The largest fish nabbed was a 12 pounder by Shell, while Rittersbacher pulled in a 10-pounder for his biggest catch.

After driving to the end of the road, the party made the last 15 miles by water to reach their camp.

Besides being elected chairman, young Eddie Deyo of Purdon was the second high man on the senior rifle team. Gary Mayo of Kerens and Johnny Dillard, Route 5, Corsicana, also were on the team.

On the third junior team were Bobby Sharp, Frost; Kenneth Reed, Frost, and Ottis Ray Spurlock of Kerens.

The camp opened last Thursday with some 20 Navarro boys attending. It broke up shortly after noon on Saturday.

C Of C Seeking To Outlaw Gyp Deals On Advertising

Repesentatives of two Chamber of Commerce committees sought Tuesday morning to work out a plan to outlaw gyp advertising schemes and control solicitations for funds.

The groups in session included the solicitation and advertising control committee headed by J. M. Dyer Jr. and the merchants activities committee with Sydney Marks as chairman.

Similar plans of Waco and Texarkana were studied by the group.

It is hoped to gain 100 percent merchant cooperation and have the seat of control for all types of solicitation and diverting schemes at the chamber.

Under the plan no merchant would subscribe to any drive for funds or solicitation for special advertising until a clearance is receved from the chamber by the solicitor.

Certain types of advertising woud be outalwed altogether.

In addition to Dyer and Marks those attending the meeting included Festus Pierce, L. M. Morton, H. M. Contgomery, Abe Goldberg, Elmer Butler, J. C. Bule, Clyde B. McClung.

Garitty Disaster Chairman Navarro County Red Cross

The appointment was made by Tom Spikes, chapter chairman, and approved unanimously by the nine board members attending the session.

Capt. M. A. Nation Declares Navy Is Ready For Action

Members of the Rotary Club were informed Wednesday in the clear, quiet, cold language of a veteran U. S. Navy flier that whatever happens in the world, the Navy is ready.

Capt. Milton A. Nation, commander of the U. S. Naval Air Station, Dallas, didn't say it in so many words. He did say:

"We are trying to keep the U. S. Navy just as potent as we can.

"It is more potent now that it was at the end of World War II.

"I think we are all set if we have to have a war."

And he added soberly, "Let us fervently hope that this cold war doesn't warm up."

Naval Aviation Pioneer

Capt. Nation, a pioneer in Naval aviation and a man who has spent ten years on airplane carriers, an Annapolis man who saw combat service in all areas of the Pacific and Atlantic during the last war, paid tribute to this branch of the Navy.

"If the airplane is here to stay," he smiled, "then the carrier is here to stay, too."

"I know of no more efficient way to conduct a mass flight than by use of the carrier," he added.

"It is now conceived," he said, "that we may have to fight a war in the Arctic—cold weather operations We have been testing the posibilities, and we found the carrier operates as efficiently in the colder climates as in sub-tropical weather. . . just as well except for a little worse flying weather."

Air Might Increased

The veteran Naval officer scoffed at the idea that the Navy has declined in power as a result of increase in air might.

He said that during World War II in transporting personnel the Navy traveled 33 billion transport miles.

"It is obvious," he said, "that without seagoing transports our civilization would drop back at least 50 years"

The officer attributed much of the Navy's readiness to the Air Reserve Program which can and will provide capable men on call to man the planes of the Navy

"I don't believe there is anyone capable of saying how much our national security is worth," he said

Must Have Sea Power

"But we owe it to ourselves and to our country to never let our national defense deteriorate as they did prior to the last war.

"We must have sea power. We must have land power, and air power, and we must have them balanced."

Capt. Nation was introduced by Harper Lincecum.

Guests included Ralph W. Stell, and Max Garrett of Dublin and Wright Kinchloe of Mexia, visiting Rotarans. Dave Yates, new Corsicana theater member, was ntroduced as a new member.

Plane Drops Some Object On Lake Success Grounds

LAKE SUCCESS, July 22—(AP)—A United Nations official said today a yellow airplane dropped a white object on the U. N. grounds and it exploded with a loud noise.

John Cosgrove, chief of the U. N. security guard, said he did not know whether the object was a bomb.

The object appeared to be some sort of "sleeve" he said.

Many U. S. employes heard the explosion.

Corsicana C Of C Offers Building To Hosiery Mill

The Chamber of Commerce offered an eastern hosiery mill a new, air-conditioned building Tuesday as a housing unit for a southwestern branch—and hoped for the best.

Given until the last of the week to present a proposition to the company in open competition between cities in the 20,000-25,000 population bracket, the chamber made one.

It is hoped to interest private capital in erecting the building—a matter which members of the board of directors feel can be done if a reasonable return on the investment can be realized from the company.

The company will be offered th building on a lease-purchase n, with rental figures being laced high enough and depreciation figures low enough to insure a fair return.

The company, makers of nylon hosiery, plans to locate its new plant in Texas. Paying a higher wage scale than is in force in fairly similar trades in this area, the company expects to keep 300 highly trained workers on the job.

To My Friends

I earnestly solicit your vote and influence in the first primary election for the nomination as justice of the peace, Precinct 1, Place 2, July 24. Since I do not have a car, I have been unable to see each voter in his home personally during this campaign, and I desire that this message be accepted as a personal visit to your home

To The Voters Of Precinct 4, Navarro County:

Since taking charge of the Commissioner's Office about 18 months ago, I have been able to put practically all the roads in good shape, in spite of the scarcity of funds, and I have replaced and rebuilt about 50 bridges that were washed away in the floods, and have bought two new Road Maintainers.

Last winter our roads were washed away and cut up the worst ever, but I now have them in good condition again, and with the new and better machinery on hand and an experienced crew to operate it, I can do a better job from now on.

The business of the County is conducted in the Commissioner's Court, and an experienced man can make your money go further. I am asking your support, and your vote in Saturday's election on the basis of my record and experience.

Your vote will be appreciated.

Allis-Chalmers plows have strength where it counts—rolled high carbon steel beams, precision-built bottoms, tension-built wheels, positive lifting mechanism. Wheels have pressure-lubricated, automotive type bushings turning on precision bearing surfaces sealed from dirt. High lift, and ample clearance in all directions assure trouble-free operation in trashy plowing.

For lighter soils, the No. 4 Series two-bottom 14-inch plow is ideal, if a heavier plow is needed, the No. 1 Series heavy duty plow will handle the tougher plowing conditions. It is available with from 2 to 4 bottoms in 12-inch to 16-inch sizes.

Fertilizer attachments are also available for either of these plows. Come by and let us show you the advantages of owning an Allis-Chalmers.

[illegible] men in [illegible] world to fly nd be prepared to protect s."

son told radio listeners today he believes "no runoff will be necessary in the senate race." Last night he told reporters he figures on getting [illegible] cent of the votes in Saturday's primary.

In the broadcast Stevenson stressed government economy.

"I know in my own mind and from my own experience that substantial savings can be squeezed out of an annual budget amounting to 40 billion dollars a year. Remember that this sum is 40 thousand million dollars. That is equivalent to nearly $1,200, a hundred dolars a month, for every family in the United States.

Going to Washington.

"Can your family afford a tax bill of that size?"

The former governor said he plans to go to Washington as an observer in the senate gallery during the special session of congress called to begin July 26. "I want to get acquainted with senate procedure."

Peddy flew from Dallas to De Leon, planning to return to Dallas later in the day.

"The battle between Communistic Russia and Democracy has reached a critical stage," he told the Watermelon Festival audience. "Russia is determined to prevent the nations of Western Europe from regaining their strength. Russia is determined to block the Marshall plan and run us out of Berlin.

"Danger" Cited.

"I don't want to frighten you, but I do want to show you the danger of continuing to depend on old-fashioned political leadership such as is responsible for our desperate plight in Berlin."

Each of the three candidates predicted yesterday that he would be top man in the election Saturday.

In the governor's race, Caso March said at Austin yesterday, "If I am elected I won't sell out to the big oil companies. Life's too short for that."

Griffin Confident.

James D. Griffin, candidate for state commissioner of agriculture, told a San Antonio audience of Latin-Americans, in Spanish:

"I'm the fellow who's going to beat J. E. McDonald after 18 long years."

Griffin headed for Corpus Christi today and will wind up his campaign Friday with a big motorcade through the Rio Grande Valley, his home area.

The campaign headquarters of Justice James P. Hart, candidate for supreme court associate justice, announced that 31 local Bar Associations have endorsed his candidacy. In a speech at Dallas last night, Judge John A. Rawlings opposing Hart, claimed Hart is endorsed by the CIO.

Giles Plans Speech.

Bascom Giles, candidate for re-election as state land commissioner, said he would make a statewide radio address at 7:15 p. m. "No stump oratory," said Giles. "Just a simple, business-like report of my tenure of office."

Railroad Commissioner William J. Murray, seeking re-election, advocated oil and gas conservation—"the kind of conservation program we are working on now"—as the best argument against federal control. "This is the job I want to help do."

Sumter W. Stockton of Breckenridge, a candidate for governor, said today in a telegram to the Associated Press that his advocacy of a $500 state bonus for all World War veterans "will place me in the runoff with Gov. Jester next Saturday."

ficials sped preparations to start registering those men 19 through 25 who will be subject to a draft call.

Registrations will begin August 30 and continue through September 18, with induction of qualified men to start at some later date.

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, national selective service director, gave a broad hint yesterday that it will be October 1, at the earliest, before the first inductee dons his khakis. He added that the method of selecting men for induction has not been decided, and probably won't be until next week. He indicated he prefers taking the 25-year-olds first and then working downward, but left the door open to a return to the lottery system.

County Court

County Judge L. L. Powell has dismissed more than 300 criminal cases, pending on the county court docket prior to January 1, 1946. They were dismissed upon a motion prepared by County Attorney Charles T. Banister, who listed numerous reasons for the action—insufficient evidence, invalid complaints, injured parties' recommendations, and others. Also dismissed were 22 cases pending on the docket since January 1, 1946.

Sam Montgomery and Arnold Ray Bamburg, charged with the theft of oil well equipment near Corsicana July 16, pleaded guilty before County Judge L. L. Powell Tuesday and were fined $100 and received two-day jail sentences each.

Justice Court

Judge A. E. Foster fined one person Monday for not having an operator's license and transcribed a drunk-driving case to the county court.

Judge W. H. Johnson transcribed two theft complaints to the county court.

Judge A. E. Foster fined a man for not having an operator's license.

A negro man arrested Wednesday night by Constable Joe Allen at a negro night club here, was fined $15 by Justice of the Peace A. E. Foster Thursday morning on an affray charge. Allen said the negro was fighting with his girl friend.

Judge Foster also fined a man for a highway violation.

Judge W. H. Johnson fined three persons for highway violations.

Sheriff's Office

Two young men were arrested by sheriff's deputies—one Monday and one Tuesday—and charged with the theft of oil equipment on leases near Corsicana, Deputy Raymond Myrick announced. Details of the alleged crime were not available Tuesday morning. Both men were in the county jail.

More Funds For Soil Building Practices Soon

Navarro county farmers will be allowed more funds for soil building practices effective Monday, July 26.

The County Agricultural Committee voted at a meeting Friday to increase the allowance to $2 per acre for cropland plus ten cents per acre for all other land on which conservation practices are undertaken.

Announcing this Tuesday, Triple-A Secretary Cline T. Young said the increased allowances were voted because of unexpended funds. The action also will tend to encourage soil conservation, he said.

Previously, the soil building allowance was 50 cents per acre for cropland plus 10 cents for other land.

"A maximum of $500 can be paid out to any one man in the United States for improvement practices," Young said.

The County Committee also voted a maximum payment of $150 for phosphate soil building practices and a maximum on 2,000 cubic yards for stock ponds.

Nine soil conservation practices are approved for Navarro county, Young said, adding that in 1949 additional funds — approximately twice that for 1948—would be available for this county's farmers.

The county committeemen are George Ward, chairman, of Blooming Grove; Elmer D. Smith, Angus, and John G. Christian, Powell. All are farmers.

inhabitants of the territory ask that action."

Ruling Cited.

According to Associated Press dispatches regarding the decision, Chief Justice Lester pointed out that counsel for the city maintained clause in city ordinance "in manner and form as provided by general laws of the state" applied to the ordinance only and had nothing to do with the manner of annexation.

The jurist held the phrase applied to both preceding phrases; so that it could be construed "may be extended to take in other territory in the manner and form prescribed by the general laws of the State of Texas" and "by ordinance duly passed by the commission in the manner and form...."

Lester cited the case of Allen vs. City of Austin, in which it was held Austin had the right to annex territory by ordinance, but he pointed out the charter adopted by Austin under home rule amendment contained this provision: "The city council may by ordinance annex additional territory lying adjacent to the city with or without the consent of the territory and the inhabitants."

Charter Discussed.

"It can readily be observed," said the court, "that the Austin charter clearly granted to the commission the power to annex territory by ordinance alone."

Judge Lester pointed out that "intent of the people of Corsicana when they voted the charter must be considered."

He noted one provision of the charter sets forth the manner in which ordinances shall be passed so it would not be necessary in another clause to specify that an ordinance should be passed in a manner conforming to the general laws. He also noted in the charter 32 other references to ordinances making provision for execution of powers of local self-government, but in no instance does the charter provide that ordinances must be in a form and manner prescribed by the general laws.

Further Decision.

The court further wrote:

"The citizens of Corsicana under the constiution and the enabling act of the legislature, had the absolute right and power to adopt any method of extending the limits of their city that they desired to prescribe in their charter so long as such method did not violate the constitution or the general laws of the state.

"If they desired to adopt by reference to the general laws of the state as a method, it was their privilege to do so. In this connection we feel it is more reasonable to conclude that they desired to prescribe a method that they were familiar with, and one that had been followed for many years by many other cities of this state, rather than that they intended to select a new method that was not generally followed in other cities, and one that would give the city commission unlimited power in this regard without chart or compass ...."

Shortly afterwards Republic Steel at Cleveland said it was increasing its prices an average of approximately $9 a ton.

Chairman E. G. Grace of Bethlehem said his firm's general advance of 1-10 of a cent to 6-10 of a cent a pound was made "in order to bring selling prices into a more equitable relation with costs." It has raised wages an average of 13 cents hourly.

Republic said its price boosts are necessary because of a recent wage increase averaging 13 cents an hour and increases in the costs of coal and other materials and services, including freight,

Hair Glamor Formula For Summer Months

By BETTY CLARK
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor.

Blessed is the summer which is so kind to girls who seek charm. The formula for beauty is free for the taking during the warmer months. Air, sunshine, cleanliness and exercise are right at your doorstep.

Get your outdoor complexion by carefully acquiring a healthful sun tan without a painful burn. Keep your figure lithe and lovely by swimming, hiking, golfing, tennis, bicycling and other exercise.

Make your hair shine. Wash it every day if you like, set it in pincurls, dry it in a jiffy under the sun or sunlamp. Since hair is said to grow faster in summer than any other time, it will need more special care.

Brush it before you wash it. If you have a backyard, do your brushing outdoors and let the hair fly. A good method is to sit on the end of a chair and bend from the waist, then brush hair up and away from the scalp.

Two brushes can do a very efficient job. Use a pocket bristle comb brush for thoroughly cleansing your scalp. Roll the bristle comb through the hair, twist and describe a half circe with each brushing stroke to remove dust and dandruff.

A professional style hairbrush with widely spaced bristles will reach down to the scalp and cover a good-sized section of it with each stroke. Use it after your bristle comb.

During the summer your hair will need more frequent washings. You'll have to judge whether you can take it several times a week or twice a month. It all depends on how dusty, oily or how dry it is.

If you are blonde, don't hesitate to dry your hair in the sunshine. But if you are brunette, and want to avoid sun bleach, don't make a habit of drying it in the sun.

You can learn how to set your hair in pincurls by watching your hairdresser next time you pay a visit to the beauty salon. Notice particularly whether she makes the pincurls in nines or sixes or both. The direction of the loop determines which way your wave will go, so setting the pincurl in the right direction will make a smoother coiffure.

LET YOUR HAIR FLY.... Use a pocket-bristle comb, hairbrush, dry it in the sun.

To The Voters And My Friends Of Precinct 1, Navarro County:

Let me take this method of expressing my sincere gratitude and thanks to you for having elected me your Commissioner for one term.

On account of so much needed work at this time, I have not been able to see every one of you, but am seeking re-election and your support. I need the office, and according to Democratic custom, a man is usually given a second term, and I confidently believe you will re-elect me.

I feel that I am able to render you better service from having had the one term experience and I promise to make you a better and more efficient Commissioner in the coming term.

Gratefully yours,

First, I want to thank you for your support six years ago, as my opponent has said he surely has had experience enough to make a good Justice, during the length of time he has been there—he could certainly absorb knowledge of that nature that I don't have, but I am sure I will be able to grasp and retain this knowledge quickly enough to make an efficient official.

Mr. Foster is just an old carpenter like I am, and I would like to swap him my work bench for his swivil chair. I am sure I can make you a good, honest, and efficient Justice, and if you people want just that kind of a man for your next Justice of the Peace—

New York Cotton Table

NEW YORK, July 22.—(AP)—Cotton futures were steady today on scattered local and trade buying which met only limited hedge offerings. Less pessimism over the foreign situation and optimistic comment by Secretary of Agriculture Brannan on cotton prospects had a steadying influence. Some buying in deferred deliveries was attracted by the fact that those months are selling not far above the expected loan on the next cotton crop.

Late afternoon prices were 45 to 65 cents a bale higher than the previous close. Oct. 32.20, Dec. 32.15 and March 32.08.

Grain Futures Up

CHICAGO, July 22.—(AP)—Grains inched up a bit today but the gains were not large enough to cause any market excitement.

Wheat got some aid from milling interests, presumably lifting hedges against sales of flour to South American and European countries. Corn showed the widest gains at times, largely because of short covering in the July contract. Advances ranged to around 2 cents at one time.

For a good part of the day oats showed some recovery powers following yesterday's drop into new seasonal low ground. But toward the close pressure again developed against the July delivery.

Cash markets were little changed from yesterday.

Wheat closed 1-8 to 5-8 higher, July $2.26 3-4 7-8, corn was 1-4 lower to 2 cents higher, July $208 3-4 1-2, oats were 3-4 lower to 1 1-8 higher, July 77-77 1-4, rye was 1-2 lower to 1-2 higher, December $1.88, and soybeans were unchanged to 3 cents higher, July $3.78.

City Tax Board Completes First Assessment Work

The city board of equalization Thursday had ended 10 full days of grapplin' and groanin' with the municipal tax load for 1948.

They quit work after an intense study of the Geo. G. Ehrenborg survey, slashing here, raising here, leaving some be.

Miss Kate Dunn, city tax assessor and collector, and her two office workers Thursday began compiling figures on results of the boards' work.

The board itself had quit until the time comes for property owners to appear in answer to notices of the board that their renditions have been raised.

Miss Dunn said she did not know when the board would meet next, but that notices were being prepared for mailing.

Mayor Hubert T. Braselton was in high praise of the three local men who took this year's tremendous task.

It was known that the board took the Ehrenborg re-evaluations as a guide—but only as that. They reached their own conclusions as to proper values, visiting questionable properties if necessary.

Some of the values placed by Ehrenborg were held by the board to be too low. As a result, they were raised Others were believed to be too high, and they were slashed.

"This board has done an excellent job, and members have worded hard," the mayor said. "The public can feel a real confidence in their findings."

Sidney K. Breitz, Joe E. Butler and R. R. Cocke composed the board.

They actually were in session 11 days, but spent the first one studying the this and that of city taxes, and hunting an electric fan to cool the place.

Former Local Resident Weds In Ennis Rites

Of local interest was the marriage of Miss Jimmie Loraine Rheay and Jack Lee Springfield, formerly of Corsicana, Saturday evening at the Tabernacle Baptist Church in Ennis. The Rev. Robert C. Fling officiated with the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Rheay, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Springfield.

Before the ceremony Miss Carol Lindsay of Dallas sang "Because" and "I Love Thee" and later the "Lord's Prayer." Her accompanist was Mrs. Ella Fern Sparks organist, who played Wagner's "Bridal Chorus" from Lohengrin as the processional and the traditional recessional by Mendelssohn. With her ballerina-length white dotted swiss gown, Miss Lindsay wore pink carnations, and Mrs. Sparks wore a blue marquisette gown with black lace trim and a pink carnation corsage.

Cathedral tapers in white tiered candelabra lent soft illumination to the altar arrangements of white gladioli and Marconi daisies in white floor baskets. The background was banked with ferns and palms.

Dress Described

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a snow-white, moondream taffeta dress, designed with a high, cowl neckline and fitted bodice. The sleeves were bracelet length and finished with cording. The voluminous, completely circular skirt, worn over a hoop, had a corded hemline and draped peplum which was caught up in the back with an enormous corded bow.

With her wedding gown the bride wore a chantilly lace hat designed with a scalloped brim that dipped in the back to form her veil and was trimmed with narrow white satin ribbon tied in lover's knots. She carried a white Bible topped with a white orchid and carnations.

Miss Frances Rheay of Hobbs, N. M., attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Misses Olive Harrell, Sarah Goar, Ann Yarbrough and Hope Allen, all of Dallas. Their gowns were fashioned alike of white springanza with short berthas and ballerina-length skirts. They wore headdresses of white maline and pink asters and carried colonial bouquets of pink asters festooned with white maline and streamers. Kay Kallus was flower girl and wore a frock fashioned on identical lines to the bridesmaids' gowns.

Ted Hosack of Houston attended the bridegroom as best man, and ushers were Bob Prestidge of Dallas and Jimmie Cook of Ft. Worth. Messrs. Prestidge and Cook also lighted the candles.

Reception Held

At the reception which followed in the church parlor, Mrs. James Hight of Kilgore presided at the crystal punch bowl and Mrs. Bob Prestidge of Dallas served the wedding cake, a three tiered white confection embossed in valley lilies. Mrs. Lonnie Rheay of Denison, aunt of the bride, was in charge of the bride's book. Assisting in the dining room were Mrs. James Lane and Misses Nancy Jane Dodd, Jean Robertson and Mary Helen Owens.

A lace cloth covered the bride's table, centered with white gladioli and Marconi daisies, lighted by white candles in crystal candelabra.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, La., the couple will be at home at 305 West Waco. The bride traveled in an ensemble of poudre blue crepe with white accesories and a white orchid corsage.

The bride attended Ennis High School and Paris Junior College. Her husband was graduated at Corsicana High School and after serving in World War II in the Army Air Corps, he attended North Texas Agricultural College at Arlington.

Budget Based On Valuation Of $15,000,000 Adopted At City Commission Meeting

The city commission at its annual public hearing on the 1948-49 schedule of expenditures and receipts officially adopted a budget based on a property valuation of $15,000,000 Wednesday morning.

Only one person, J. N. Edens, Sr., attended the meeting.

He told the group he did not come to criticize anything the budget contained, but declared he believed citizens should attend as a matter of duty.

He urged the commission to "stick with it" once the budget was adopted, and not to adopt one containing more outgo than income.

Tax Rate $2.50.

The budget, carrying the usual $2.50 tax rate, was based on an estimated 91 percent of property tax collections.

The $2.50 was broken down as follows:

	(1947-48)	(1948-49)
Schools	.85	.85
General Fund	.25	.44
Street Fund	.28	.40
Library	.05	.05
Int. and Sinking	1.07	.76

This year's budget estimated receipts at $406,865 and disbursements at $509,977.49, but included $150,000 in permanent improvements covering sewer, street and water line extension and repairs.

Although the session lasted nearly an hour and a half, there was little discussion of the budget.

Much of the time was spent discussing the proper method of handling delinquent taxes.

Edens, participating in the discussion, favored a policy of settling with property owners when possible, getting him back on "the paying list."

No Tax Adjustments.

This is in direct contrast to the policy hewed to by Mayor Hubert T. Braselton, who consistently has refused to make delinquent tax adjustments, holding it unfair to the person who has paid regularly each year.

From budgets and taxes, the commission turned to meat.

Dr. W. A. Wilson, veterinarian, with the firm of Smotherman and Wilson, was named city meat inspector at a salary of $200 a month, for the first month, the pay being subject to adjustment. Arthur Levi already had been named assistant meat inspector at $200 a month.

Selection of Dr. Wilson paved the way for launching compliance with the code adopted weeks ago.

Fees from inspection are expected to offset cost of operation on the part of the city.

CITY MANAGER FOR CORSICANA EYED AT COMMISSION SESSION

FUNDS TO BE SHORT TEMPORARILY; SOME MONIES TRANSFERRED

The city commission as a whole was given its first out-in-the-open indication Tuesday afternoon that a move might be made to obtain a city manager.

The revelation came after the matter of hard, cold dollars had reared its ugly head.

City Secretary J. Preston Welch informed the commission that both the street and general funds were overdrawn. Pointing to $18,387 in the water fund, Welch suggested $10,000 be transferred to the general fund and $5000 to the street fund. He further suggested that $5000 be transferred from the parking meter fund to the street fund.

The commission did this, and was informed that cash with which to operate the city would run out by Sept. 1. There always is a lull in the money department just before the annual tax money starts coming in, beginning in October.

Will Cash Bonds.

Of the $50,000 in U. S. War Savings Bonds, Series 'G', that the water department holds, it was decided to cash in $25,000 and the mayor was authorized to make the sale.

Welch had told the commission that it couldn't get past Sept. 1 on present revenue, and that it would take just about that long to obtain the bond money.

Edgar Rittersbacher, water commissioner, analyzed the financial situation by saying that the 1948-49 budget anticipated sale of the bonds, but that scarcity of needed material made the possibility remote.

"It was decided that the money should be spent if it could be spent," he explained.

With the tax money coming in, the city would have the equivalent of the bond sale revenue in cash in 1949, he said.

Land Rentals.

Along the same financial lines, $600 was transferred to the general fund from the White Federal Housing Fund to take care of land rentals. It also was announced that efforts would be renewed to have the Navarro Junior College pay its $500 ground rental on its airport site. It has been due since February.

The idea of a city manager came rather unexpected a few minutes later as Mayor Hubert T. Braselton tossed it out upon the table.

"I won't be here for a couple of meetings," he said. "Travis Fullwood will be mayor, as I am going on a vacation. What do you all think of a city manager to run the city?"

It was that easy.

Julius C. Jacobs, city attorney, immediately informed the mayor that a charter change would be necessary, requiring a great deal of advance work to prepare for an election after creating a charter commission.

Mayor Braselton seemed to indicate a superintendents of public works, whose duties would include running the city's business including the purchases and the engineering, would suffice. He would be a city manager without the title. He said he thought an efficient man could be obtained for $6,000 a year.

Discuss Charter Change.

Fred D. Prince, finance commissioner, made a long range prediction that a change of the charter would be swamped 4 to 1.

But F. Travis Fullwood, street commissioner, said "we are fast coming to that." (He meant to a city manager.)

The matter was dropped there, for the present.

An ordinance requiring owners of business houses to ratproof them in accordance with state and federal health regulations at a cost estimated at between $35 and $40 per building, was passed on first reading after a report was made that two rats were found here last week with typhus fever infections.

B. F. Hungate, Texas State Health Department, said the two positive tests were found out of nine blood specimens. One of the rats was caught in a cafe, the other in a mill area.

Rat Proofing.

The ordinance, which calls for the city to furnish an inspector along with government officials, makes ratproofing mandatory. The work is done at cost, but a property owner can have his work done by private contractors if it meets specifications.

The commission also:

Raised the monthly salary of City Engineer Fred V. Blucher from $275 to $325.

Agreed to start work graveling several blocks in the negro area after a representative of the Negro Community Civic Club appeared and announced the necessary money had been raised. The area is on South Fifth street from East Seventh avenue to East Eleventh avenue and on East Sixteenth street.

Ask Street Be Oiled.

Heard Mrs. S. H. Stone and Mrs. Beulah Huff ask that six blocks in the vicinity of the David Crockett school be oiled, and received their request for a street light at South Third street and East Tenth avenue.

Deferred action on offer of Elliott Middleton to purchase two overhead steel tanks at the airport for $700. The group indicated it would not sell the 300 and 250 barrel receptacles, but might let Middleton use them for gasoline storage. He said no butane would be stored there.

Ordered Chief of Police Bruce Nutt to enforce the peddlers' ordinance against street sellers of cedar posts.

Passed on second reading an ordinance setting up parallel parking on all state highways running through the city.

Donated $150 to the Texas National Guard units for improvements on old natatorium building.

Discussed taking out fire and wind insurance on the boathouses at Lake Halbert.

Didn't say a word about the rate raise request of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., although Mayor Braselton informed W. L. Cluxton, district superintendent, in a downstairs corridor before the meeting that no action would be taken.

Formal Opening New Implement Plant Saturday

A formal opening for the Stroube Implement Co., Ltd.' is scheduled Saturday, July 24, opening with a huge parade at 11 a. m. that will extend through the principal streets in the business district, with scores of John Deere implements shown.

Open house will be conducted at the new modern and up-to-date building located on Highway 75 in the southern section of Corsicana, where cold drinks, refreshments and souvenirs will be provided.

The new building, one of the most modern and finest type of farm implement buildings, does not contain any wood. It is air-conditioned and is constructed of steel, concrete, stone and brick. The bins containing 5,500 parts for the John Deere line of farm equipment, are of steel.

The latest in electrical equipment is included in the new building, including the automatic regulation of display lights, opening of doors and other features.

Roger R. Reese, employed in the John Deere business the past 14 years, is manager.

Members of the limited partnership other than Manager Reese, are H. R. Stroube, H. R. Stroube, Jr., Jack Stroube, and Joe Stroube.

Exemptions Must Be Presented By Certain Voters

Exemptions are required of persons reaching the age of 21 for voting in the first Democratic primary election under an attorney general's opinion received Thursday by Charles T. Banister. This question was brought up at a meeting of the Democratic executive committee Thursday.

Following is the opinion given Paul Moore, secretary of the county Democratic executive committee, Thursday afternoon by County Attorney Banister:

"At a meeting of the Democratic executive committee for Navarro county this morning, July 22, 1948, an opinion was requested as to whether persons who are exempt from the payment of a poll tax by reason of having attained the age of 21 in the year of election must have obtained an exemption certificate in order to be legal votaers and whether it is also necessary that such exemption certificates be obtained from the tax collecter on or before January 31, 1948.

"An opinion handed down by the attorney general's department in June, 1940, holds that it is necessary for such persons even though they do not reside in a city of 10,000 inhabitants or more to obtain exemption certificates on or before January 31 of the year in which they offer to vote. The attorney general's department stated by telephone that this opinion is still effective and was not altered by a recent Supreme Court decision dealing with old age exemptions."

To The Voters—

and my friends of Precinct 1, Navarro county: In January I announced my candidacy for the office of Justice of the peace, Place 1.

Since that time, I have made a house to house canvass, and enjoyed meeting you. You were so courteous and responsive, I take this method of thanking you, and urging that you fulfill your obligation to your government by voting.

Let me remind my friends who use exemptions, that you can vote on old exemptions by a recent ruling of our higher courts. I have lived in this county for 40 years, and never held public office. I need this office, and since my opponent has held the office for two terms, I earnestly solicit your vote on July 24, and I promise you a firm, just and sympathetic administration of the law with no discriminations.

Sincerely,
B. A. CROFFORD.
